

REPUBLICANS MAY VOTE IN PRIMARY

Race for Senate in North Carolina Creates Great Interest.

ALL CERTAIN OF VICTORY

Democrats Make Final Effort to Hold Orange County.

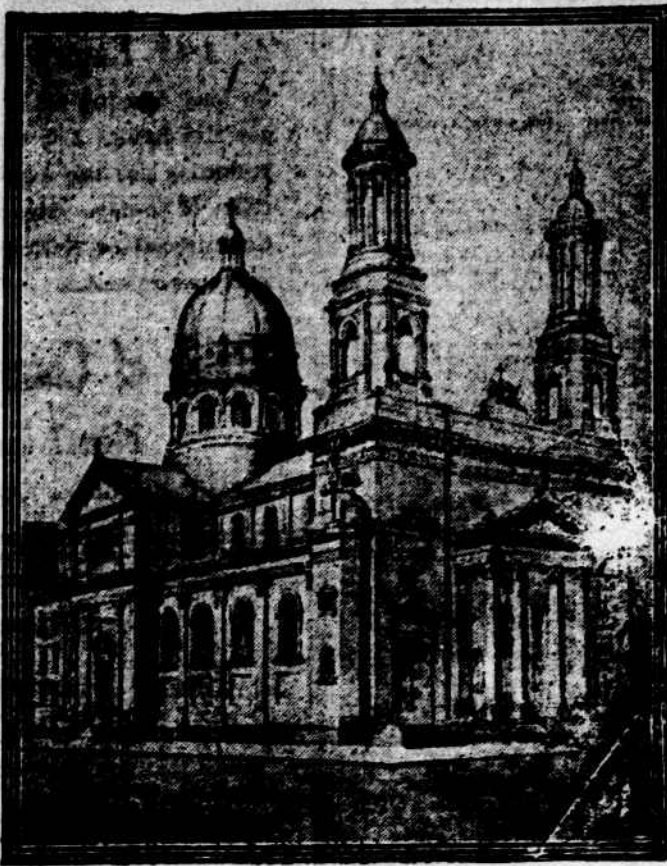

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Raleigh, N. C., November 4.—Nobody seems to know just what to expect tomorrow in the matter of the volume of the vote that will be cast for United States Senator in the senatorial primary. Normally there is a 100,000 Democratic vote, but it is entirely problematical as to the number of normally Republican voters who will vote as Democrats. Some of the Republican leaders talk of his nomination in the first primary, and all of them insist that he will be an easy winner in the second primary. On the other hand, Chief Justice Clark's supporters are taking the ground that he will poll such a strong vote in the first primary that there cannot be a nomination of either Simmons or Kitchin, and that he will win in the second. Party leaders are freely expressing the earnest hope that the party may be saved from any second primary.

Governor Kitchin issued to-day rewards of $200 for Frank Rusk, a white man, of Ashe County, wanted for criminal assault; $50 reward for John Bright, wanted in Greene County for secret assault on J. W. Doss, and $100 reward for Walter and Frank Johnson, wanted in Rockingham County for the murder of Dave Wilkerson. The Johnsons are negroes and killed a white man.

Governor Kitchin authorized a special term of Civil Superior Court for Pamlico County, to convene December 2, with Judge Daniels presiding, to continue two weeks. Also, a special one-week term in Forsyth County, to convene November 24, with Judge Adams presiding. State Chairman Charles A. Webb, of the Democratic Executive Committee, who left Democratic headquarters here Friday evening for Asheville, will return to Raleigh early election morning.

New Church of St. Jean Baptiste, Gift of Thomas Fortune Ryan

New York, November 4.—The new Church of St. Jean Baptiste, at Lexington Avenue and East Seventy-sixth Street, which is a gift of Thomas F. Ryan to the Society of the Fathers of the Blessed Sacrament, is nearing completion. It will be one of the largest and most imposing Roman Catholic churches in America, accommodating 1,500 persons. The cost will be about $1,000,000.

The church is an example of the basilica style, constructed in the shape of a Latin cross, with three naves, two twin towers, and a great dome. The towers are 150 feet in height, and the dome will project thirty feet above them. The church will be one of the finest specimens of classic Roman architecture in America. The drawings received the gold medal when they were exhibited at the International Exposition at Turin. They are the work of the architect, Gervais.

The building will occupy 125 feet in Lexington Avenue and 200 feet in Seventy-sixth Street. Beside the new edifice is the old Church of St. Jean Baptiste, on the north side of Seventy-sixth Street, east of Lexington Avenue. It has been in charge of the Fathers of the Blessed Sacrament for many years.

ing, his purpose being to arrange a pair on voting while in Asheville. Secretary W. E. Brock, of the State committee, went to his home in Wadesboro to-night to vote, and will return Tuesday afternoon to have a hand in receiving returns at State headquarters.

While the campaign generally closed down Saturday night, it was pushed right up to the last minute in Orange County, where County Chairman Robertson boasts that he will retain the county in the past. The final campaign speech in Orange was delivered to-night by E. D. Broadhurst, of Greensboro, who is declared at State headquarters to have rendered especially good service in the present campaign.

WRONG FOLKS IN BULL MOOSE CHOIR

Montague Does Not Like the Music—Discusses Issues in Final Speech.

It would be more effective to have the song about standing at Armageddon and battling for the Lord sung by a different choir, commented former Governor Andrew Jackson Montague in an address last night in the chamber of Hastings Court, Part II, ending the Democratic campaign.

Montague, who was introduced by a speech of a chorus composed of Bill Finner, Tim Woodruff and their ilk does not, in his opinion, produce a convincing tune.

The speech of the Democratic nominee for Congress was a review of the issues of the national contest, with the various remedies proposed. He likened the country to the man with a broken leg, and the candidate to physician. That he pictured an advocate of a let-alone policy, permitting nature to do its work. Roosevelt would say: "Oh, cut the leg off; he can get along better with one than with a broken bone." Wilson would have the leg mended, on the ground that the patient could get along best with two good legs.

Discussion of the evils of trusts, with programs for relief, occupied most of the address. Where Taft proposed to do nothing, Montague would regulate monopoly, while Wilson would regulate competition. Regulation of monopolies in existence he compared to buying a padlock for the stable door after the horse had been stolen.

Considering the Roosevelt plan of social justice, Governor Montague said this must be a matter of training, of discipline with a heart. On the call of Judge, he simply said that the former President could well recall some of his own appointments on Federal benches.

The only reference made by the speaker to his opponents for Congress, the nominees of the Socialist and Socialist-Labor parties, was a tribute to the sincerity of those who believe in socialist principles, and a few words to the effect that the country has not found its development along the line advocated by them, but instead the best plan was freedom of

DIG SCHOOL WELLS

Preparatory to erecting the new school in Oak Grove and Swansboro, wells will be dug this week. This will be done in order that the contractors will have an abundant supply of water to use for construction purposes.

The contracts have not yet been let in the entirety. Many minor changes will be made before they are signed. The parties have been selected and have been notified to figure on the changes. The actual work will hardly begin before spring, although the material will be on the ground in a short time.

One building will be erected in Oak Grove in close proximity to the Richmond-Petersburg line. The other will be on the Middlethian Turnpike, halfway between Swansboro and Woodland Heights, and will be equally accessible to the children of both places. The total cost of the new structures will be $40,000. Bonds in this sum were authorized at a recent election.

NOT MUCH INTEREST

Saloon Closes, Otherwise Not a Stir Caused by Election To-day.

It is hardly probable that the presidential election to-day will cause much of a stir in South Richmond. Saloons have, according with the law, closed their doors until to-morrow morning, and the thirty ones who failed to lay in a supply will have to rely on their more thoughtful friends.

Southsiders will probably poll their usual strength, although there is no local issue at stake. The ward leaders have been active in pressing this duty home.

To-night the Elks will have the returns at the home by incense wire. They will have them read from the porch as has been the custom heretofore.

TENANTS MUST VACATE

Butchers Given Thirty-Six Hours to Vacate Old Tavern.

Two tenants of the "Old Tavern" property, C. A. Fortune and J. S. Polken, were yesterday given thirty-six hours in which to vacate the building. The men, who conduct stores in the lower part of the structure, appeared in Police Court, Part II, charged with disregarding moving orders emanating from the office of Building Inspector Henry P. Beck. The building was condemned last spring, but the tenants were permitted to remain until suitable quarters could be found. Last week they were ordered out at once. Upon their failure to vacate they were summoned to court. Both have secured quarters, but have not yet got the fixtures in. Justice Maurice gave them two working days in which to get things straight.

WILL RUN CARS ON CENTRAL LOOP

Council Approves Plan of Bringing Suburban Passengers Downtown.

MANY NEW APPROPRIATIONS

Common Council Disposes of Unusually Lengthy Docket.

Routing of suburban street cars around a central loop down Seventh from Broad to Franklin, along Franklin to Eighth, up Eighth and west on Broad Street, received the approval of the Common Council last night. The Committee on Streets reported favorably an ordinance allowing a physical connection between the tracks of the old Richmond Traction Company on Broad Street and the old Virginia Passenger and Power Company on North First Street, allowing the use of the central loop by the Barton Heights, Ginter Park and Lakeside cars. Mr. Powell gave his reasons for having asked at a former meeting to have the ordinance recommended, and the paper was adopted, 14 to 4, the nays being Messrs. Butler, Powell, Rogers and Sullivan. The companion ordinance authorizing the advertisement of a franchise for a single track on Franklin Street, from Seventh to Eighth Street, with the necessary curves and crossovers, was adopted, 16 to 2, the nays being Messrs. Powell and Sullivan. This plan includes the routing of the First Street, Highlands Park, Westhampton and all South Richmond cars around the loop. The special fittings and curves to be laid at Seventh and Broad Streets have been ordered and will be laid in connection with the present track replacement.

Trees Are Donated to Cemetery.
The Council concurred in the action of the Board of Aldermen in donating 100 trees from the City Nursery to Mount Calvary Cemetery, and in granting permission to G. E. Bowden to erect a stable on Grace Street between Nineteenth and Twentieth Streets.

On report of the Committee on Streets, the Council adopted an ordinance allowing the Washington Traction Corporation to grade at its own expense certain streets through its property in South Richmond, the tract being that once acquired by the R. A. Patterson Tobacco Company as the proposed site for a new factory.

The location of the alley, through the blocks owned by Beverly, Ashland, Elm and Davis Streets, was changed on petition of all the property owners. An ordinance was adopted changing the name of Cary Street west of the Boulevard to the corporate limits to Westhampton Avenue. From the general sewer bond issue there was ordered constructed in Stockton Street a sewer to cost $4,314; in Hull Street, a sewer to cost $7,513; in Eighth Street, a sewer to cost $2,168; in Locust Street, a sewer to cost $2,168; in Locust Street, from Clay to Leigh, to cost $650, and a number of lesser sewers. On report of the Committee on Streets the building line was ordered changed on the south side of Franklin Street from Laurel to Shafer Street, from twenty-five feet to twenty-one feet seven inches, this having been agreed upon by the property owners as a concession to the new Monroe Terrace Apartment House.

City to Buy Land Outright.
A resolution to acquire land on the west side of Seventh Street, between Leigh and Duval Streets, was adopted. The Council recently ordered Seventh Street graded across the ravine, making a new street through the Locustville works, along which the street was to be laid. The City Engineer reported that the required fill there would be necessitated an enormous concrete retaining wall to protect adjoining property. The property in the ravine is of little value, and can probably be bought outright by the city for less than the cost of such a wall. After being used as a dump until brought up to the grade of the new street it can be sold, it was stated, for as much as it cost. The City Engineer reported that the proposed wall was ordered, no concluded action to be taken until the price has been reported to the Committee on Finance.

On recommendation of the Committee on Finance, the following appropriations were made:

Appropriating $4,000 to remodel the old high school building on Marshall Street, between Eighth and Ninth Streets, as the School Board headquarters.

Holidays for Fee Dismal Men.
Special Accountant George S. Crenshaw reported that he had examined and found correct the accounts of the City Collector, the Police Court, Part I, and II, and the Street Cleaning Department. In connection with the Police Court, Part II, he called attention to repeated delays on the part of Justice Maurice to make settlements as required by law, which delays he had been assured would not occur again.

In connection with the Street Cleaning accounts, Mr. Crenshaw reported that in August the Council Committee on street cleaning granted a vacation of six days with pay to the men in the department, costing the city $2,340. On September 12 the City Attorney, in reference to a similar application for holiday on the part of men in the Street Department, gave it as his opinion that there was no authority for committees to grant such vacations with pay to men.

As such practices might cost the city large sums and disrupt the work of the departments if continued, Mr. Crenshaw recommended that the Council take such action as would make the practice of the various departments uniform. The paper was referred to the Committee on Ordinance, Charter and Reform. Later a petition from the Street Cleaning Committee to be allowed to give other men vacations with pay was referred to the same committee, it being stated that most of the men had had their holiday, while the practice had been stopped on receipt of the City Attorney's opinion, and an injustice had therefore been worked on a few men.

No Action on Price of Gas.
Resolutions from the Committee on Light in reference to reducing the price of gas from 90 to 75 cents were referred to the Committee on Finance, as was a resolution from the Committee on Electricity in reference to granting free electric current from the municipal plant to the Mechanics' Institute.

On recommendation of the Committee on Water, a contract was awarded to the Lynchburg Foundry Company for cast-iron pipe and special castings, costing $7,507.70, that company having been the lowest bidder.

The Committee on Ordinance, Charter and Reform recommended fourteen ordinances making permanent increases in salaries, all of which were referred to the Committee on Finance. Not a single salary increase received final approval last night, not one being reported by the Committee on Finance for action.

The Ordinance, Charter and Reform Committee recommended repeal of an ancient franchise granted in 1884 to Andrew Pizzini and others, and never exercised, to sell light and power and to place poles and wires in the streets. The franchise has been for many years a mere encumbrance to the statute books, and it was repealed.

Wants City to Pay Cost.
The Committee on Printing and Claims recommended payment of $48.30 to Rufus C. Williams for damages to his automobile from having been run into by the city ambulance when that vehicle was not responding to an emergency call. The paper was referred to the Committee on Finance. On roll call Mr. Umstead offered an ordinance amending the Building Code, which went to the Committee on Ordinance, Charter and Reform, and resolutions which went to the Committee on Grounds and Buildings.

Mr. Fuller called from the table and secured adoption of a report of the Committee on Finance appropriating $1,050 to pay a judgment obtained against the city in the Law and Equity Court, and $5,000 to be appropriated to the account of opening and widening streets.

The Council thereupon went into the election of citizen members of the Board of Public Interests, and elected Harry Tucker, Joseph W. Bailey and William Gibson, Jr.

Well Known Physician Succeeds Charles Hubler, Resigned.

Dr. Charles R. Robins was elected a member of the City School Board last night by a joint session of the City Council, succeeding Charles Hubler, resigned. No other names were presented, and the action taken was unanimous.

Dr. Robins is a well known physician and surgeon, associated with Dr. Lewis C. Butler and others in the practice of the Stuart Circle Hospital. He has been for several years a member of the visiting staff of the City Home Hospital, and has given much time to the relief of the indigent sick.
